WHAT IS A JOB DESCRIPTION?

- A record of the essential activities involved in the performance of a job that is abstracted from a job analysis and used in classifying and evaluating jobs and in the selection and placement of employees
- Generally includes sections such as:
 - Overview
 - List of duties, skills and responsibilities
 - Performance standards
 - Reporting relationships
 - Education, training and certifications
 - Compensation/benefits

JOB ANALYSIS

Job Analysis is a systematic exploration, study and recording of the responsibilities, duties, skills, accountabilities, work environment and ability requirements of a specific job.

It also involves determining the relative importance of the duties, responsibilities and physical and emotional skills for a given job. All these factors identify what a job demands and what an employee must possess to perform a job productively.

JOB DESCRIPTION ANALYSIS TIPS

1. Look beyond the job title
2. Determine how close of a match you are
3. Look for hidden questions and red flags
 - Insufficient details
 - Unclear expectations, poorly written
 - Long list of required credentials “wish list”
 - Beware of “upfront commitments”
 - “High earnings potential”
4. Identify required education, training and experience
5. Is travel required? How much?
6. Is a salary range mentioned?
7. When was the JD posted?

TO APPLY OR NOT TO APPLY?

- In general, if your qualifications create a 60% match to the job description, and if you know you can do the job, and you would enjoy the work – apply.
- If your resume match percentage (using Jobscan.co or other tools) is greater than 80% - apply.
